America's Newspapers FULL TEXT

Updated daily, this comprehensive national news resource offers the complete electronic editions of more than 600 U.S. newspapers, including The New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and Washington Post.

CQ Researcher Plus Archive FULL TEXT

Explores a single "hot" issue each week, ranging from social and teen issues to environment, health, education, and science. Forty-four reports are produced each year, including four expanded reports. Includes charts, graphs and sidebar articles.

Florida Newspapers FULL TEXT

A collection of 40 full-text Florida newspapers, including the Ocala Star-Banner, The Orlando Sentinel, and the St. Petersburg Times.

GreenFILE FULL TEXT

An informative resource for anyone concerned about the issues facing our planet. GreenFILE indexes scholarly and general interest titles, as well as government documents and reports, related to environmental issues.

Issues and Controversies FULL TEXT

Current information on 600+ controversial topics, including overviews, timelines, statistics, key recent news events, illustrations, maps, tables, and selected historical source documents.

New York Times FULL TEXT

Full text coverage of The New York Times, from 2000 to the present day.

New York Times—Historical FULL TEXT

Full-text and full-image articles for The New York Times, covering the period from 1851-2003.

Opposing Viewpoints Resource Center FULL TEXT

A one-stop source for information on today's hottest social issues. Find viewpoint articles, contextual topic overviews, government and organizational statistics, court cases, profiles of government agencies and special interest groups, primary source documents, and full-text newspaper and magazine articles.

Regional Business News FULL TEXT

Provides the full text for about 75 regional business publications, newspapers and newswires covering metropolitan and rural areas within the United States.

DATABASES

These databases provide the full text of articles that were originally published in magazines, journals, and newspapers. They are available to currently enrolled Florida community college students.

LINCCWeb Databases

There are 80+ LINCCWeb databases, most of which provide the full text of at least some of the articles indexed in the database. "Full text" means that you can view the complete article, not just information about the article. You can also, in most databases, print articles, save them to a flash drive, or email them.

The full-text articles that you access through the LINCCWeb databases are the exact same articles that were published in the original print version of the magazine or journal or newspaper or reference book, so that is how they are categorized for research papers. LINCCWeb articles are not web sites; they are magazine or journal articles or reference book essays.

Not every database provides full-text articles, so it's important to choose a database that does provide full-text if you need the actual articles. In the list of databases, the ones that provide actual articles say Full Text next to the title. In addition, usually not every record, even in a full text database, is attached to a full text article. If you need articles, most databases offer the option of limiting your search to Full Text. This is generally a good idea.
